

E-Mail Statement Delivery Terms:

1. To receive electronic delivery services, you must have a working connection to the Internet with e-mail capability to open Portable Document Format (PDF) files with Adobe Acrobat Reader 5.0 or higher. Download free software from www.adobe.com.
2. Upon enrollment, periodic account statements will only be provided electronically. Requests for paper copies of these documents will be subject to research fees as disclosed in our Terms and Conditions brochure. You may request paper copies by sending your requests to the address listed below
3. You agree to keep us informed of your current e-mail address by advising us of changes in writing.
4. You acknowledge that the bank has no control over the receipt of the E-Statement.
5. You agree that the bank will not be liable for any damages caused to you as a result of:
 - Any access to the content of the statement(s) sent to the e-mail address and received by you;
 - Any failure on your part to receive statement(s);
 - You agree that the bank will regard statements as having been received by you on the day they are sent.
6. At time of enrollment or upon our request, you agree to provide us with a password needed to decrypt the self-extracting attachment containing your statement.
7. Our receipt of an e-mail delivery error after sending you a PDF file will cause this agreement to terminate. The information contained in the undelivered file as well as future statements will be mailed to you at the address contained in our records.
8. If we change the minimum hardware or software requirements, and you are unable to receive electronic delivery services, you will be released from this agreement without any penalty or consequence to you.
9. You may withdraw your consent for electronic delivery services by sending written notice to the address listed below. Upon withdrawal, the documents will be sent in paper form to your address of record.
10. Upon termination of electronic delivery services, by you or by us, a new application will be required to reinstate this service.
